

Death License

By order of the Death Magistrate of the Underworld this certifies successful completion of the Death Certification Examination.

The holder of this certificate is authorized to practice Death under the authority of the DCEO. A Death License can be revoked at anytime for any reason without explanation, but is usually as a result of posting too many selfies or photos of your pets. We get it, they're your "Fur Babies." Bearer understands this is an honor and is to be used responsibly. The Ministry of Death may conduct random license checks to ensure validity. The bearer of the license assumes all responsibility. No copies or duplicates may be made of an official Death License at the risk of disbarment and public flogging. The Death Certification Examination Organization reserves all rights.
